President's Message From Schelly Jensen

As my term as President winds to a close, I want to express my thanks to all of you who helped make this a successful year. I am so impressed with the members of this branch--you never fail to step up when you are needed. For example, we had over 80 members volunteer to help out with our Antique Answers fundraiser, and that doesn't count all the members who volunteered throughout the year on committees or to help with programs and other fundraisers!

Another example: For the Non-event this year, we raised nearly $7,000 from that event alone with contributions from more than half of our members.

Our Thanks to 2014-15
President Schelly Jensen

We've put in place a couple of new projects to help us raise money in the future. We've applied for some grants from foundations/corporations (see page 3 for further information). We're also planning a new fundraising event--Women of Distinction--which will honor women from Placer County who have made a contribution to the community. The details of the dinner and the awards are still being developed, but we will have more information to share with you at the Installation Luncheon on June 2. In any case, both of these projects represent a change in our thinking. Instead of turning inward to our members for everything, we're beginning to reach out to the larger community--tooting our own horn about all the good things we do for our community and asking them to join us.

We can feel proud of the programs that AAUW sponsors in our community. The Sierra College scholarship program and Tech Trek, in particular, have made significant differences in the lives of women and girls. This difference was brought home to me by the letter we received from a former Tech Trek girl outlining what a profound difference Tech Trek has made in her life (see page 7). Letters like these really inspire us to continue on with our volunteer work and our fundraising to ensure that we can continue to provide these opportunities for women and girls in South Placer County.

May 13 Board Meeting Highlights

Committee reports: Philanthropy: See page 3 for full report.

Sue Cofer reported on a movie, "Girl Rising," to be shown at the Rocklin Movie Studio Grill on May 18th. Former Tech Trekker, Hanna Shows, arranged to show the movie: a documentary which tells the story of 9 girls from different parts of the world who face arranged marriages, child slavery, and other injustices. Board members were encouraged to support Hanna's efforts by bringing friends to attend this movie.

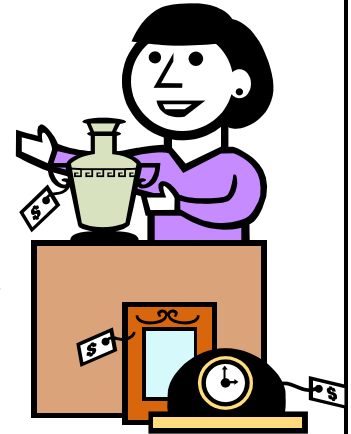

To date, 50% of members have renewed their membership for the 2015-16 year. Calls will be made to remind and encourage members to renew. Six new members have joined the branch since April and will be among the new members who have joined since July of 2014 to a New Member Tea being planned for June.

March/April monthly financial reports were distributed and reviewed. All reimbursement requests should be submitted by June 15.

Antique Answers and Other 2014-15 Philanthropy Events

By Maria Actis, AAUW-RSP, Philanthropy Vice President

Our branch held its second successful Antique Answers Evaluation Day Fundraiser at the Valley Springs Presbyterian Church in Roseville on Saturday, May 2nd. This year the event drew approximately 96 people from the community, of which 68% were non-members. We had 11 appraisers that looked at over 290 antiques and provided verbal evaluations. The appraisers were Gary Cox, Barbara and Bob Velasco, Bob Hensley, Charles Gray and Lynne Holmberg-Gray, Brad Lomazzi, Debra & Jerry Jensen, Joy Zgola, Brian Johnson, Paulette Volz, Kathy Platt, and Malcolm Howe. The price charged was reasonable, and people actually went home and came back with more items.

For this event, our volunteer members turned out in record-breaking numbers. Over 50 volunteers put in hours of work on the Philanthropy Committee or volunteered their time to work May 2nd. At the end of the day, we had many clients who were more than satisfied with the overall event. Approximately 58% of those who attended stopped at the feedback station to describe the memorable experiences they had with the appraisers who provided us feedback information regarding the evaluations of their antique treasures. The majority of what we heard was, "What a great event; if you have it again next year, I'd surely come back"; "first time doing this sort of thing...got good feedback" and "would come again." As a result, the branch raised $2,900 for this event. (See more on page 4.)

Overall, the Philanthropy Committee for this fiscal year (2014-15) raised approximately $20,000 from contributions and the fundraising events. A major significant change in our fundraising process this year was the collaboration between Philanthropy and several of the "Interest Groups" as well as Program. For the wine event in November 2014, Philanthropy worked with the Wine Appreciation Group for a very successful wine-tasting day. Funds came in from the branch precinct work in November. Additionally, Philanthropy and Program teamed up to put on a successful Fashion Show in March 2015. This teamwork was phenomenal this year. Because of this teamwork and collaboration between the groups, our success was phenomenal this year. The Non-event brought in approximately $6,825. Please note there are still four more weeks for those who have not contributed to the yearly Non-event fundraiser. (See how on page 10.)

Philanthropy put together a superlative Grant Writing Sub-committee this year and began writing requests for grant monies from various companies and organizations throughout greater Placer County. The branch received our first grant of $5,000 from the Auburn Indian Community of the Auburn Rancheria. With this grant and the relentless hard work from the Philanthropy Committee on the fundraisers, we have exceeded our fundraising goal of $15,350 this fiscal year. We will have the funds to meet our forecasted plans for the Sierra College Scholarships and Tech Trek for 2015-16.

I want to thank the Philanthropy Committee and all of our branch member volunteers who have supported us and who have truly made this possible, for without you, we would not have been successful. Congratulations! You worked hard together as a cohesive and collaborative team. I am proud to say that I have worked alongside all of you and that I have been part of such a successful team effort.

Maria Actis, VP Philanthropy

Antique Answers -- Appraisals and Surprises!

Marian Batten: "We discovered that the Hopi Tewa 'vase' we inherited was a polychrome jar made by Roberta Youvella Silas from the Laguna Pueblo in New Mexico and is worth a fair amount."

Joseph Lopez, who brought 11 items, with spurs and a signed Chi Chi Rodriguez hat...

Appraiser Gary Cox gives good news to Lila Hayes and daughter about a rare antique signed Tiffany lamp with turtleback style shade.

Lynda Braun holds a Japanese non-commissioned officer's sword and scabbard, circa WWII, inherited from her father. "I learned it is authentic and worth quite a lot—and that it had actually been used."

Appraiser Malcolm Howe: "The most interesting item I saw today was a pair of archaic seals from China, circa 1500. The owner thought they were just decorative porcelain dogs and she was quite pleasantly surprised."

Sierra College Students Attend AAUW Leadership Conference

By Sue Miller, Sierra College Leadership Chair

A dynamic team of Sierra College students is headed to Washington DC May 29-31 to participate in AAUW's National Collegiate Conference for Women Student Leaders (NCCWSL).

Sierra College is one of eleven colleges throughout the nation to receive a Campus Action Project grant from AAUW. The grant requires that the project results be presented at NCCWSL.

Under the leadership of Professor Megan Seely, a member of the Roseville-South Placer AAUW branch and chair of the Sierra College Sociology Department, the six-student grant team worked to create a gender stereotype visual project, addressing, challenging and raising awareness of gender notions and sexism. They created a Gender Alphabet, presented on 26 posters that were displayed on the Rocklin campus April 27-30. Each word was defined, with its improper use and bias noted on the poster. The girls staffed an information table near the project display, and initiated discussions with interested students and faculty. The project pointed out that gender bias, particularly as directed toward women, is often unconscious. The students' work was well thought out and professionally done!

Professor Seely commented: "The teamwork and camaraderie of this group has been exceptional! I have never had a group work together as well as these young women!"

These energetic girls decided that they'd all like to attend NCCWSL and set about fundraising — bake sales, car wash, selling T-shirts, soliciting donations through the Sierra College foundation. As a result, four girls will be traveling to the conference to present the project to over 1,000 attendees.

I have met these young women. Their enthusiasm, teamwork and creativity are most impressive! It makes me proud to be part of AAUW, supporting girls in ways that enable them to educate others about inequity as well as offer them opportunity for personal growth. They are the future of AAUW!

Tech Trek Thank You--A Success Story

The following letter was sent to the branch by 2010 Tech Trek girl, Beth Morin.
Her story is an inspiration that lets us know how important
Tech Trek can be in shaping someone's life.

My Thanks to Roseville-South Placer Branch Women--By Beth Morin

I'm currently a senior at Roseville High School. When I attended Buljan Intermediate School, your branch sent me to Tech Trek at Stanford and my experience there completely changed my life. Being surrounded by intelligent, driven girls and receiving guidance from accomplished women revealed to me a whole new world of possibilities. My time at Tech Trek inspired me to take advantage of all opportunities and resources that came my way, and I came into 8th grade and high school with an even stronger desire to learn about the world around me. I even remember the presentation on financial aid and how I left so encouraged because I had previously seen college costs as an impediment to my goals, but then realized that it could actually be affordable.

I am incredibly blessed to have been admitted to some amazing institutions including Harvard, the University of Pennsylvania, UC Berkeley, USC, and more. As of now I have narrowed my options down to Harvard and the University of Pennsylvania, but I am very much leaning toward Harvard. If I choose Harvard, I will most likely study government and Portuguese.

I can't thank this branch enough for believing in me back in 2010. I can trace back much of my motivation to achieve highly to my time at Tech Trek. Thank you so much!

Beth

Note: Beth has let the branch know that she has now committed to attending Harvard next year.

The AAUW Planned Legacy Circle

Plan a Gift That Will Change Lives for Women and Girls

For each of us, philanthropy is intensely personal. It is an expression of our values and our vision of the world we hope to create for the next generation. Your support of AAUW makes it possible for us to fund critical programs to help break through the persistent barriers that continue to limit opportunities for women and girls. But when you plan a gift to AAUW in your long-term estate or financial plans, you will ensure the future with changes that are so important to women and their families. Use the links on the National AAUW Website to learn more about estate planning, how you can include a gift to AAUW as part of those plans, and how you can benefit from your gift.

We congratulate and thank Jackie Lamb, the latest branch member to join the Legacy Circle.

AAUW Funds Support Women to Achieve Educational Goals

By Carol Mintz, AAUW Funds Chair

To All Roseville-South Placer Branch Members:

A big THANK YOU to all our members who contributed to AAUW Funds during the past fiscal year. Your generosity and commitment to better the lives of women who wish to further their education has been very successful.

Members can designate which of the six funds they would like their contributions to go towards or members can designate that AAUW National use the money where there is the greatest need. A reminder that you can look up the goals of the six different funds online for further donations.

At our 2014 Fall Kickoff Meeting in September, former President of the National AAUW, Carolyn Garfein, addressed the group with the challenge that she would match the amount that members contributed through the end of October. As a result of Carolyn's generous gift, our members came forward with their monetary contributions for a grand total of $3,950. Thank you so much to all of you, and especially to Carolyn Garfein.

During the past three fiscal quarters, our members contributed a total of $9,108. The fourth quarter fiscal contributions will be received at the end of June.

One of the women who used the funds to further her post-graduate education is Michele Segar. Michele is now an associate director of the University of Michigan Sport, Health and Activity Research and Policy Center for Women and Girls and a behavior-change expert for notable sources like the "New York Times, Prevention, and Women's Health."

Another woman who has benefited from an AAUW Fellowship is Melissa Harris-Perry. Ms. Harris-Perry is a host of her own show on MSNBC. She is also a professor at Tulane University and a columnist for "The Nation."

On the international level, Esther Ngumbi has used her fellowship to become an entomologist and motivational speaker nominated for "One World Action's 100 Program." She is committed to work in Kenya and other African countries to develop sustainable farming and a science and leadership center.

“Kudos To”

Thank you!
Joan

“Kudos To” ~ A branch feature ~ Do you know someone who has gone above and beyond to help the branch—perhaps someone who has missed being recognized? Send your recommendation with examples to Communications Director, Susan Hall.

Kudos to Joan Mackey for forming the committee to explore the possibility of one large branch fundraiser: Women of Distinction. Joan's committee met during this past year to study similar fundraisers and to lay out the tasks and timelines for such a large event, one that would honor several South Placer women for their contributions to the community and would feature a recognized and inspiring guest speaker. Joan's hard work has led to the formation of a WOD committee to implement this plan during the 2015-16 year.
